The Australasian Management Challenge

The Australasian Management Challenge has been at the forefront of professional development in local government in Australia and New Zealand for more than 25 years.

The Management Challenge is a simulation-based team building, learning and networking program using real local government themes.

Some challenge tasks require written responses, some take the form of role play or presentations and the teams are scored on observations of how well they display energy, synergy, effectiveness and creative thinking.

The Management Challenge helps participants to develop key skills such as leadership, analytics, communication, negotiation, decision-making and presentation skills.

“We learnt how to work smarter not harder, how to champion each other’s strengths and I learned how to trust my own abilities. My advice would be to get involved.”
