

2023 LGFA Taituarā Local Government Excellence Awards

Application information and entry form

December 2022

The LGFA Taituarā Local Government Excellence Awards® are for programmes, projects and approaches that demonstrate professional excellence in local government management. The Awards are open to any council, or council-controlled organisation (CCO) in New Zealand.

These Awards support a culture of success in the local government sector and encourage the sharing of good ideas and good practice amongst local authorities. We encourage you to enter, not only to showcase and celebrate the outstanding people and mahi that contribute to the success of your council and community, but to impact the sector by sharing these innovative stories.

Last year, forty-two entries were received across a range of local government activity – from a community park to the America’s Cup Base infrastructure.

At the Taituarā Gala Dinner category winners and the overall winner for the year are announced.

2023 Category Awards

The Capability Group Award for Excellence in Organisation and People Development Is your local authority effectively developing its people and culture?

This category recognises approaches that build an exceptional organisational culture or capability through the application of transformational leadership. Entries in this category might be multi-year programmes or one-off projects but they will involve organisational redesign, human resource management, leadership development or other means of building organisational or staff capability. The approach must be capable of transfer to other local authorities.

The Datacom Award for Digital Local Government How is your council making use of the power of technology?

This category is for programmes or projects that have achieved successful results from the application of a digital or technological solution. Entries might involve the transformation or redesign of a service or business process, the use of technology to better enable community participation in the democratic process, the development or use of an evidence base or other use of technological or digital means to achieve a great outcome for the community. The approach must be transferable to other local authorities.

The Minister of Local Government’s Award for Excellence in Council-Community Relations Award Are your council’s community relationships delivering results?

This award recognises programmes, projects or initiatives that demonstrate outstanding results through excellent community engagement or community empowerment. Entries may come from any area of local government activity, but must have community engagement, empowerment, or partnership as a key aspect, especially those undertaken over and above statutory requirements.

Entries may include successful collaboration with private or community organisations. The approach taken must be transferable to other local authorities.

The MartinJenkins Award for Collaborative Government Action

What benefits has your community achieved through your council working with other local or central government agencies?

This award recognises outstanding results that have been achieved through local authorities working with other government agencies. This category could include programmes or projects from any area of local government activity, provided there is a demonstrable community benefit, and the approach is transferable to other local authorities.

The Beca Award for Placemaking

Is your council making the community a better place to live?

This award recognises programmes or projects that shape or create a vibrant local economy, local culture or promote the achievement of positive social outcomes. Any project or programme in these areas may be entered, but it must be able to demonstrate it is transferrable to other local authorities. We see this in keeping with the wellbeing focus of the sector, now and in the future.

Guidelines to completing the Entry Form

Project Summary (200 words)

This should be a high-level overview or Executive Summary of the project. The judges do not mark this, but the description is important because it will be part of the official Taituarā package of information for the media should your entry be successful.

Strategic Context (20 marks – 400 words)

Entries must identify the rationale for the project and the proposed outcomes.

This should include:

- The level of need and the evidence base that demonstrated the need
- The anticipated outcomes and the linkage between the project and the outcomes (i.e. how was the project to generate the expected outcomes)
- The relationship to council's strategic direction
- The risks for the project and how they were mitigated

Project Management – (15 Marks – 300 words)

Applicants need to identify how the project was managed.

This should include:

- The key issues from the project plan - scope, timeframes, resources, and governance
- What quality assurance systems were utilised

Relationship Management – (15 Marks – 300 words)

Applicants need to identify their communication and relationship management with stakeholders:

- The different communication tools used
- The different audiences the project engaged with
- How it communicated with "hard to reach" groups

Project Success (50 Marks, 1200 words)

Entries must explain how the project was successful and what about the project is transferrable to other local authorities.

This should include:

- The situation 'before' and 'after'
- The criteria used to judge success and evidence that these have been met
- Barriers traversed
- The lessons learnt from the project and how these will be shared across your organisation
- Plans to integrate the project into business-as-usual

- The project outcomes, lessons etc. Are the project lessons transferable to other local authorities and why?

Other Important Things to Note

There is a 2400-word limit on all entries. If an entry is more than 100 words over the limit (assessed over the entire entry – unders and overs between categories are permitted), Taituarā may, at its sole discretion:

- direct judges to disregard material in excess of 2400 words or
- return to entry to the entrant council to amend or
- decline acceptance of the entry.

Entries must stand alone. The judges will not assess attachments or material included through embedded links.

Entries may be entered in one category only.

Entrants may include relevant photos, diagrams, or other visual aides in their entry. These should amplify or demonstrate the points made in the written entry.

It is a condition of entry that the entrants have rights to use any material used in the written entry and video, and that the entrant agrees to indemnify Taituarā in the event of any claim for breach of intellectual property on material used in the entry.
